

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Eternal Spring.
The garden is a grave of moil,
The roses are but a bare
But underneath is fairy gold—
The bulbs are there.

The world is cold beneath gray skies,
Pale ice the rill;
But far beneath asleep there lies
The daffodil.

The daffodil of fairy gold
And little green
Lies hidden underneath the moil,
Loved, yet unseen.

And so I hope, when winter dies,
In blossoming,
To meet with you beyond God's skies
Eternal spring.

Visitors Complimented.

The beauty of the day and the early spring season combined to render the visit of the Daughters of the American Revolution belonging to the Missouri delegation attendant upon the recent sessions of the Continental Congress in Washington, D. C., most delightful.

The Missouri ladies have been visiting the Jamestown Exposition grounds, Jamestown Island, Williamsburg and other historic points of interest in Virginia.

The Commonwealth Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were the hostesses of the delegation in Richmond. A committee who met them on arrival and took them for a drive around the city and a visit to the executive mansion, by invitation of Mrs. Swanson, included Mrs. B. L. Purcell, Mrs. A. F. Hunt, Miss Irene Boessels, Mrs. Dallen Barkdale, Mrs. Kate E. Winn, Mrs. Larkin Glazebrook, Mrs. M. L. Anderson, Mrs. M. Allen Chambers, Mrs. E. D. Holchick, Mrs. Mary Louise Harrison and Mrs. John A. Coke.

A reception and tea was tendered the visitors at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, No. 11 East Franklin Street. Guests were received by Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, Mrs. John A. Coke, Mrs. C. W. P. Brock, Mrs. Alice M. Tyler, Miss Helen Montague, Mrs. W. T. Robbins, Mrs. C. A. Blanton and Mrs. Kate S. Winn.

Mrs. M. Allen Chambers and Mrs. W. E. Evans were in charge of the entertainment committee. Chapter members who did the honors of the dining-room were: Mrs. Mary Louise Harrison, Mrs. A. F. Hunt, Miss Madge Freedley, Mrs. T. A. Miller, Mrs. Charles P. Lee, Mrs. James T. Rutherford, Mrs. M. L. Anderson and Mrs. Charles M. Ferrall.

House decorations at Mrs. Elyson's in wild flowers and palms were particularly suggestive of spring.

White wax candles, in silver candlesticks, were shaded with green. Mrs. Elyson wore white radium silk with fresh point lace and dispensed charming hospitality.

Punch, ices, cream and strawberries were served.

The Missouri ladies were most agreeable and professed to have enjoyed every moment of their stay in Virginia and their day in Richmond specially. Universal regrets were expressed that the visitors felt obliged to continue their journey last evening and that they could not make a longer stay in Richmond.

They mentioned among the pleasant incidents of their being here, their visit to the Executive Mansion, which they admired almost as much as they did the mistress of the mansion, Mrs. Swanson. In the party entertained were Mrs. Deane Field, Mrs. Thomas Towles, Mrs. John G. Booth, Mrs. Shelton, Mrs. Pittman, Mrs. J. B. Glover, Mrs. Barton, of Kansas City; Miss Katherine Owen, Miss Louisa Dalton, Mrs. W. W. Boyd, Mrs. Ben F. Gray, Jr., Mrs. E. D. Dwyer, Miss Skinner, Mrs. Tom Brock, Mrs. Tull, Mrs. Meriwether and Mrs. Marshall.

Martin—Southworth.
Miss Ellie Southworth and Mr. Clarence Martin, both of Goodland county, were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. G. W. Southworth, at 3 P. M. Wednesday, April 26th, at St. James' church, of the Methodist Church, officiating.

The parlor was very prettily decorated with white flowers and evergreens, and altogether, it was one of the prettiest marriages of the season.

The bride is a beautiful brunette and is very popular. She was handsomely dressed in a light gray tailor-made suit, with hat and gloves to match.

Mr. Martin is a son of Mr. Joseph Martin, of Gum Springs, and is engaged in business in Richmond, where the happy couple will reside.

Jarman—Beal.
A telegram has been received in Richmond, announcing the marriage of Miss Nellie Beal, of Scottsville, Va., to Mr. J. J. Jarman, of Roanoke, Va. The ceremony was performed in Washington Thursday by Rev. W. W. Ferguson.

After an extended Northern tour Mr. and Mrs. Jarman will make their home in Roanoke.

Nelson—Garnett.
The marriage of Miss Mary Clarence Garnett to Mr. Richard M. Nelson, took place Wednesday evening, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newport News. The Rev. A. O. Sykes, officiating.

Mrs. C. Aylett Ashby was matron of honor and Mr. Robert Nelson, of Birmingham, Ala., was best man. The ushers were Messrs. C. Aylett Ashby, James Murray Jordan, of Charleston, W. Va.; Garrett Mason, of Norfolk, W. Spencer Henley, Samuel H. Plummer and W. C. Pritchard.

The bride wore a beautiful princess gown of white crepe de chine over tulle, and her tulle veil was caught with a pearl spray, a family heirloom. She also wore a pearl necklace, the gift of the groom, and a white prayer book.

After a Southern tour, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home in Newport News. Both bride and groom come from distinguished Virginia families, Mrs. Nelson being the daughter of Dr. Charles L. Garnett, surgeon on the staff of General G. W. Custis Lee; and Mr. Nelson being a direct descendant of Thomas Nelson, the famous Governor of Virginia, and signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Rucker—Rucker.
An interesting wedding scheduled for today will be that of Miss Lillian Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tucker, of Delaplace, Fauquier county, to Dr. Cowles Rucker, of Washington, D. C.

The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. P. Wood, No. 1629 West Grace Street.

Poems You Ought to Know.

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Elliot Norton.

GUNGA DIN

No. 816.

By RUDYARD KIPLING.

The following poem was said by Charles A. Dana to be one of the really great poems of the English language. "Harry by" means "O brother!" "Julius" means "be quick," "Marrow you" means "let you," "Mussick" means "water skin."

In the army of India it is customary to have water carriers with goat skins filled with water to follow the fighting troops.

The biography, autograph and portrait of Kipling have already appeared in this series with other selections from his works.

You may talk o' gin and beer
When you're quartered safe out 'ere,
An' you're sent to penny-fights an' Aldershot it;
But when it comes to slaughter
You will do your work on water,
An' you'll lick the bloomin' boots o' 'im that's got it,
Now in India's sunny clime,
Where I used to spend my time
A-servin' o' 'Er Majesty the Queen,
Of all them blackfaced crew
The finest man I knew
Was our regimental blight, Gunga Din.
He was 'Din! Din! Din!
You limping lump o' brick-bat, Gunga Din!
Hi slippery hithero!
Water, get it! Panee lo!
You squidgy-nosed old idol, Gunga Din.

The uniform 'e wore
Was nothin' much before,
An' rather less than 'arf o' that be'ind,
For a piece o' twisty rag
An' a goatskin water-bag
Was all the field-equipment 'e could find.
When the sweatin' troop-train lay
In a sidin' through the day,
Where the 'eat would make your bloomin' eyebrows crawl,
We shouted 'Harry By!
Till our throats were bricky-dry,
Then we wopped 'im 'cause 'e couldn't serve us all.
It was 'Din! Din! Din!
You 'eathen, where the mischief 'ave you been?
You put some juice in it
Or I'll marrow you this minute
If you don't fill up my helmet, Gunga Din!

'E would dot an' carry one
Till the longest day was done;
An' 'e didn't seem to know the use o' fear.
If 'e charged or broke or cut,
You could bet your bloomin' nut,
'E'd be waitin' fifty paces right flank rear.
With 'is mussick on 'is back,
'E would skip with our attack,
An' watch us till the bugles made 'Retire,'
An' for all 'is dirty 'ide
'E was white, clear white, inside
When 'e went to tend the wounded under fire!
It was 'Din! Din! Din!
With the bullets kickin' dust-spots on the green.
When the cartridges ran out,
You could hear the front-files shout,
'Hi ammunition-mules an' Gunga Din!

I shan't forget the night
When I dropped be'ind the fight
With a bullet where my belt-pate should 'n' been.
An' the man that spied me first
Was our good old grinnin', grinnin' Gunga Din.
'E lifted up my 'ead,
An' 'e plugged me where I bled,
An' 'e giv me 'arf-a-pint o' water-green:
It was crawlin' and it stunk,
But of all the drinks I've drunk,
I'm grateful to one from Gunga Din.
It was 'Din! Din! Din!
'E's a beggar with a bullet through 'is spleen;
'E's chawin' up the ground,
An' 'e's kickin' all around;
For Gawd's sake git the water, Gunga Din!

'E carried me away
To where a dool lay,
An' a bullet come an' drilled the beggar clean.
'E put me safe inside,
An' just before 'e died:
'I 'ope you liked your drink,' sez Gunga Din.
So I'll meet 'im later on
At the place where 'e is gone—
Where it's always double drill and no canteen;
'E'll be squatin' on the coals,
Givin' drink to poor damned souls,
An' I'll get a swig in hell from Gunga Din!
Yes, Din! Din! Din!
You Lazarus-like-leather Gunga Din!
Though I've belted you and flayed you,
By the livin' Gawd that made you,
You're a better man than I am, Gunga Din!

Meeting of Y. A. M. Club.
The following account of the meeting of the Y. A. M. Club in Roanoke Tuesday afternoon will be of interest to readers of The Times-Dispatch, entering as the Roanoke club does into the Shakespeare contest of this paper. The account says:

"The Y. A. M. Club met at Mrs. John H. Thompson's on Tuesday afternoon. 'The Winter's Tale' was finished and commented on, the ladies deciding that, while all of the plays were interesting, the 'Merchant of Venice' was more replete with charm than 'Much Ado About Nothing' or 'Winter's Tale.'"

"Paris were assigned for 'Romeo and Juliet,' the tragedy to be read during the month of May, as May is usually designated 'the merry month.' The Times-Dispatch, perhaps gives this play

Willett—Turner.

A beautiful wedding, in which the Richmond friends of the bride will be interested, was that of Miss Nellie Cecelia Turner to Mr. Julius Earl Willett, which took place Wednesday in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Allen Brinkley, in Port Norfolk, Va.

The parlor was beautifully decorated in palms and cut flowers, and the wedding march from Lohengrin was played as the bridal party entered the room. The Rev. A. C. Thomson, rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony.

After a Northern tour, Mr. and Mrs. Willett will go to Atlanta, Ga., where the groom is a well known young business man.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. O. E. Taylor, of No. 321 West Cary Street, this city, and has many friends here, where she spent her early childhood. She is the daughter of the late Thomas Sumter
